

ANNUAL REPORT 2011-2012

A REPORT TO THE PUBLIC FROM GARDEN CITY COMMUNITY COLLEGE & THE GCCC BOARD OF TRUSTEES

 GARDEN CITY
COMMUNITY COLLEGE

Introduction

A report to the public from Garden City Community College.

This report, covering the year that concluded June 30, 2012, is part of an annual effort to outline institutional accomplishments reached by the community's college. GCCC's mission is to produce positive contributors to society and the economy, focusing on five key outcomes:

- Essential skills
- Work preparedness
- Academic advancement
- Personal enrichment
- Workforce development

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Garden City Community College is an institution on the move.

As president of GCCC, I believe in accountability, and that is one of the reasons you are receiving this annual report. I place a great deal of respect in the relationship between our elected governing body, the GCCC Board of Trustees, and the taxpaying public that owns the institution.

In addition, I highly value the policy governance system by which our board sets objectives and parameters, and places responsibility on our administrative team, faculty and staff – and ultimately on the president – to achieve our goals in serving the public.

With this in mind, it is my honor to report to you that over the past year this institution:

- Was ranked among the top 10 percent of American community colleges a second consecutive time
- Was named among the top 24 community colleges in the nation for student success
- Joined the 2013 list of Military Friendly Colleges
- Earned authorization to launch a powerful new program on Oil Technology
- Became part of the TRAC 7 consortium to provide workforce training to Kansas job seekers
- Logged our largest increase in student enrollment in six years
- Drew accolades from the U.S. under secretary of education, the Kansas governor and the president of the Kansas Board of Regents
- Just launched a new trademark logo to reflect the success and excellence that have long been our hallmarks.

These accomplishments, and others that you will find in this report from the college and our elected board, go hand in hand with an extensive list of attainments reached by our diverse corps of credit and non-credit students.

I believe it is our faculty and staff who deserve credit for the success of GCCC. These are challenging and changing times in higher education, but we are moving toward a bright and beneficial horizon because of their talent, skill and dedication.

Dr. Herbert J. Swender
GCCC President

"In my search for a college, I was very impressed with GCCC because everyone made me feel welcome and the atmosphere made me feel at home."

Jaden Bolmer, Lakin
2012 GCCC Ambassador Scholar

INSTITUTIONAL ACCOMPLISHMENTS

"I'm proud to say I attended Garden City Community College. That is where I really got started and it was the best decision I ever made."

Dighton native Cassie Rupp

A PLACE FOR ART

Mercer Gallery helps fulfill GCCC's objective of providing personal enrichment for Southwest Kansas. The two-room facility has been offering quality exhibitions of art in multiple media since it opened in 1989.

- Regular exhibitions

Eight to nine annually, August through May

- Location

West wing of the Pauline Joyce Fine Arts Building

- Access

Mercer Gallery admission is free

The gallery was made possible by generous contributions from the late Maxine Mercer Porter, in memory of her first husband Clyde Mercer, an area farmer, pilot, teacher and artist. Exhibitions include local, regional and nationally noted artists working in:

- painting
- drawing
- print making
- ceramics
- sculpture
- photography
- mixed media
- other imagery

DRILLING INTO OPPORTUNITY

Southwest Kansans can now qualify for careers in the expanding U.S. energy field due to approval by the Kansas Board of Regents of the new GCCC Oil Technology Program. Participants can take a set of core classes and then focus on one of two options:

- Oil exploration
- Oil production

Oil Tech students can earn stackable credentials and choose:

- The exploration certificate

This involves 22 college credit hours

- The production certificate

This involves 36 credit college hours

- The associate in applied science degree

This follows certification and includes 67 credit hours

GCCC's new program involves industry partnerships and includes support and involvement from:

- American Warrior
- Chesapeake Energy
- Cimarex Energy
- Petro Santander, Inc.
- Other industry partners too

Representatives will be serving on the program advisory board, and the partners will be called on to offer apprenticeships, assist in development and provide help or equipment for on-site training.

"It is obvious that Garden City Community College cares about this community. This is a college that is going to grow and serve its community the very best it can."

Dr. Martha J. Kanter, under secretary
U.S. Department of Education

COLLEGE LEADERSHIP

"Garden City Community College, along with our state's technical and community colleges, under the grant coordination of Washburn University, is making a positive difference toward putting Kansans to work."

Kansas Governor Sam Brownback
Speaking in reference to GCCC's TRAC 7 participation
