Component 2: Department Profile

A. Mission/Purpose

1. What is the mission of the department and how does it align with the institutional mission and other strategic priorities?

The mission of the Garden City Community College Admissions office is to attract and enroll undergraduate students from our community, service area and beyond, to provide educational opportunities to prepare them to succeed personally, motivate them to become active members and leaders within our campus community as well as society.

The Admissions Office will lead and support recruitment activities across the campus and disseminate information to all prospective students, regardless of age, sex, race or interest, to aid them in their educational decision making process.

We support the overall mission of the college to produce positive contributors to the economic and social well-being of society by introducing and connecting students to the resources of the faculty and staff that assist with the various departments across campus, such as;

We plan and implement enrollment dates that will include an assessment of the students' essential writing, reading and math skills.

We assist students with their career decisions by providing class and program information about various technical programs and transfer programs at GCCC. We also refer prospective students' to an instructor / advisor in the specific discipline.

Assisting students interested in transferring by making those aware at the time of initial enrollment, that their assigned advisor will assist them in making appropriate class selections for a successful transfer. We assist students in scheduling campus tours on other college campuses. We serve as a resource for students by connecting them to an admissions representative directly.

The admissions office assists with various departments across campus with activities such as Exploration Day, Discovery Day (aka Fine Arts Day), by encouraging exploration of the various technical programs and careers. We assist students who enroll for personal enrichment classes by making course offerings, schedules and course descriptions readily available in the admissions office. We also make them aware of the online schedule that they may check at their convenience.

Assist students with information about the numerous technical offerings at GCCC. Encourage all students to consider enrollment in any of the GCCC technical programs.

B. Human Resources – combine all sub-units

1. How does the department assure that all personnel are qualified for their position?

The current desired qualification to the admissions office is for candidates to have a bachelor's degree. We look for candidates that have excellent written, spoken and interpersonal communication skills. Each candidate is required to complete the application packet that consists of a GCCC application, resume, cover letter, and official transcripts. The director also requires that the candidate prepare a 5-10 minute presentation on "How to Recruit Students to GCCC". This is give us the opportunity to evaluate their communication skills and review any handouts they might prepare.

We also send all representatives to the annual state organization conference known as KACRAO. KACRAO is the Kansas Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers. This is a nonprofit, voluntary, professional association of more than 400 higher education administrators who represent nearly 80 institutions in the State of Kansas.

The admissions staff are strongly encouraged to attend the annual conference in September of every year.

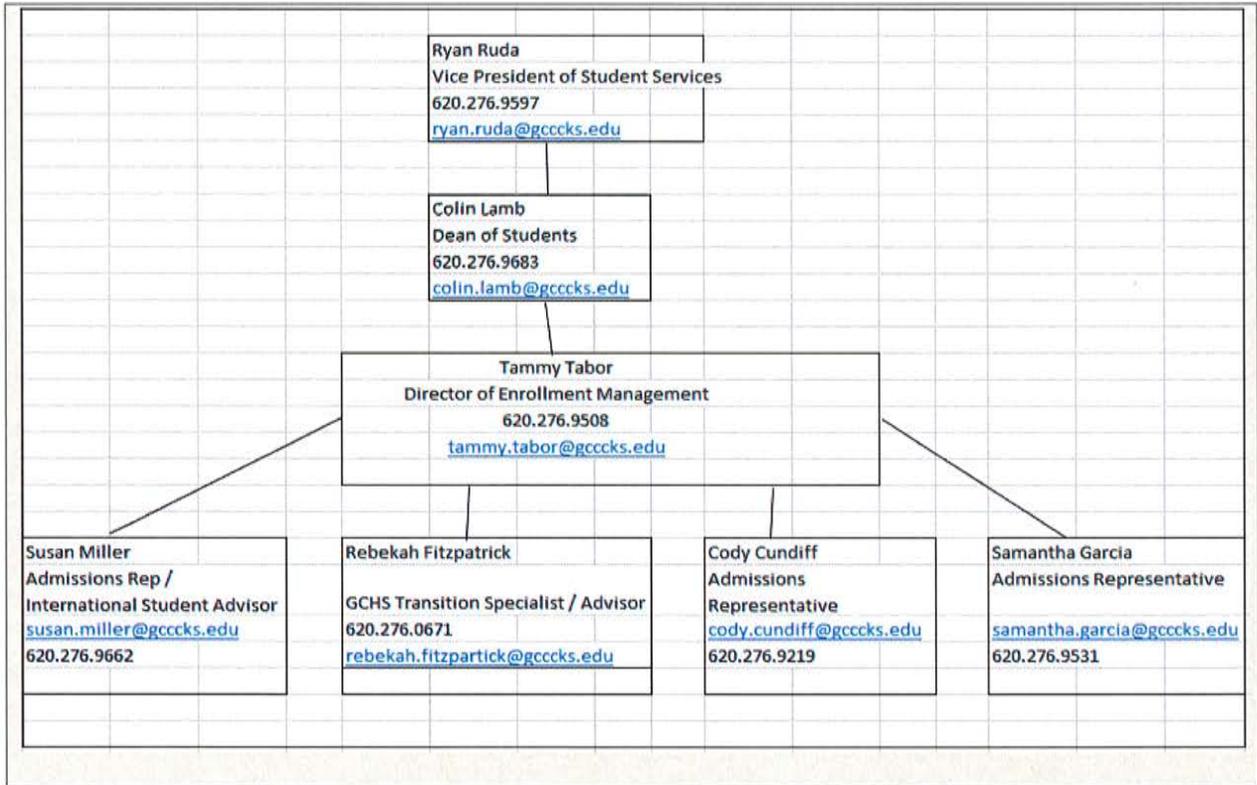

KACRAO provides a new counselor workshop that is intended for first year admissions professionals. It gives them an overview of the KACRAO organization, meet other new professionals and provides tips on how to be an outstanding professional. It also provides a Statement of Good Practices (Attachment 1) for recruitment, questions that representatives will encounter and how to handle them, as well as how to prepare for college fairs. KACRAO also provides training for the more seasoned representative. It will provide speakers on how to stay current with technology, transfer information, KBOR legislative updates and tools on how to gather data.

AACRAO's mission is to provide professional development, guidelines and voluntary standards to be used by higher education officials regarding best practices in records management, admissions, enrollment management, and administrative information technology and student services. They provide conferences, web training, and forums for discussions regarding policies initiation and development, interpretation and implementation at all levels.

The Director of Enrollment Management is able to attend annual conferences and utilize AACRAO services in all aspects of recruitment and international policy.

C. Description of the Department and the Customers/Clients Served

1. What are the key functions, processes and services provided by the department? Include production level data such as students/customers served, transactions processed, etc. Explain any compliance duties or responsibilities.

Recruitment is the main function of the admissions office. We provide recruitment services by participating in high school visits, college fairs, and events held on and off campus throughout the year. We are connecting students to internal stakeholders of all departments across campus.

Admissions personnel guide potential students and families through the application, assessment, and enrollment processes. Students are encouraged to visit the advising center to discuss any questions, concerns or problems they have while at GCCC.

The Admissions Office is where the student record of transcript is created. This process begins with the application. The application is considered the official document for student to verify their demographic status and their educational intent.

All official transcripts are submitted to the admissions office for verification of graduation dates and final transfer transcripts received. The staff will verify each transcript is from an accredited institution. We refer to several accreditation registry's to verify accreditation, such as AdvanceED, National Center for Educational Statistics (NCES) and the Council for Higher Education Accreditation (CHEA).

The admissions staff also complies with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) and use best practices to maintain all personal information about students.

The International Student Advisor is responsible for the data entry and daily processes in SEVIS (Student Exchange Visitor Information System) of all GCCC international students. SEVIS is a web-based system for maintaining information on international nonimmigrant students in the US. This system is kept on behalf of the Department of Homeland Security as a tool to monitor schools and foreign students.

We also track and provide enrollment information. Enrollment numbers from the service area have only been provided since 2014.

2. What impact do those services have on students and other key stakeholders? What are the department's enhancements to the institution?

The Admissions Office provides essential college information to students and families. Admissions personnel guide students through the entire application process from inquiry to enrollment. Admissions personnel create the student file and connect students to internal stakeholders across campus. Admissions provides key support and guidance to get students started at GCCC and connected with appropriate resources for success.

3. Discuss how the department utilizes appropriate technology to provide services to its stakeholders.

The YouVisit virtual tour provides a campus tour experience for student who cannot visit campus in-person. The virtual tour includes video, images, and information about each building and departments on campus. Students can also request more information, schedule a campus visit and apply to GCCC.

The Facebook page is used to promote campus activities and provide information about college events, as well as important enrollment dates. The online application allows students to apply for admission without coming to campus in-person.

Email is used for quick follow-up to applications, visits and inquiries.

An automated email is also generated to students that have applied for admissions, letting them know that we have received their application. Another email is sent to students that are non-degree seeking. This email notifies them that their application has been processed and if their degree intention should change, that new requirements would follow.

4. Describe any existing continuous improvement activities.

The YouVisit virtual tour provides a campus tour experience for student who cannot visit campus in-person. The virtual tour includes video, images, and information about each building and programs on campus. Students can also request more information, schedule a campus visit and apply to GCCC. We are able to update pictures at any time.

Information can also be found on various flyers. We are able to provide information on each technical program, various services available on campus, cost, applications. As programs continue to change, we are able to keep flyers up to date.

We have a viewbook that provides a basic overall look of the college. This is updated every other year, with new information and pictures of students in different programs and activities. This year, 2017 we were able to add a technical viewbook. This booklet provides the specific information about each technical program, classes offered, career opportunities, and contact information.

5. Provide any other relevant information needed for a complete understanding of your department.

The admissions office is the first step into the college for any student. The application is the first step in starting a transcript at GCCC. The admissions assistants and admissions representatives all provide data entry of the application that help verify the student, addresses, and residency. This office also verifies all official high school and college transcripts. We also collect ACT scores that are used for placement and provided to advisors.

The office develops and implements enrollment days for prospective students. Enrollment for the summer and fall semesters opens in April. Enrollment dates will provide students the opportunity to choose their classes early, for enrollment, complete housing contracts, pay deposits, pay fees, get their photo ID, and meet with the financial aid office.

The admissions office schedules a day for Garden City High School and Holcomb High School students to provide them an opportunity to come to campus for early enrollment. We offer enrollment dates throughout the summer for all prospective students. A postcard with dates provided is mailed out to the prospective student file in March prior to enrollment opening.

Component 3: Resources

1. Describe the overall adequacy of resources (human, technological, capital, facilities, and fiscal) available to the department for providing effective service delivery and achieving outcomes. If additional resources are needed, please provide data and describe how those resources would improve services.

The admissions office is located front and center and does have a small waiting area for a family if needed. However, it is not an ideal space for large tour groups.

The admissions department is staffed with 3 full time admissions representatives and 5 student workers. The admissions office is responsible for creating the student record of transcript. It is imperative that the record is entered correctly. The Admissions representatives travel frequently and are involved in other campus committee's and organizations that require frequent meetings. It would be beneficial to have a full-time staff member whose primary responsibility was to work the front desk, answering phone calls, responding to inquiries, and the data entry. We have an online application and use Datatel as our Student Information System. However, these systems do not communicate. We are required to print the applications coming in, and enter each one into the Datatel system. Many of the applications require follow-up calls or emails about specific information. That attention to detail and follow up would be better handled by a full time, professional staff member.

The staff could also benefit from having their own laptop computer when they are traveling. This would allow the ability to correspond with recruits, enter prospective information into the database and maintain data entry efficiency.

Include documentation if requesting additional resources.

Component 4: Departmental Innovation

1. Does the department engage in extracurricular activities as a service to the students and community?

Yes No

If yes, list activities and explain how they benefit the students and/or community (e.g. fliers, internal department documentation)

The admissions representatives visit the nine county service area high schools. They also participate in the KACRAO College Planning Conference circuit in October. As well as College Fairs in Oklahoma and Colorado.

We participate in FFA competitions, music festivals, Business Fairs and Trade Shows, career day programs at middle schools and high schools.

2. What innovative ideas have been incorporated into the operation of the department during the last five years? Discuss the results and provide documentation.

The admissions office is continually working on updating our promotional materials. The viewbook, which serves as a general overall view of the college is updated every other year. This year, the technical viewbook was added. This is a guide that showcases all of the college's technical programs, highlights, career opportunities and salary outlook.

In 2016, 4 retractable banners were added to use at our table during college fairs to display and showcase our college, technical programs, contact information in full color.

The CPC (College Planning Conference) circuit is a fair type setting that starts in October at various high schools across the state. This circuit consists of 39 – 40 fairs that invite juniors and seniors to attend. A service called GoToCollege is a website that is used by the student to provide their contact information, area of interest, interest in activities and sports. They are then provided a QR code. The admissions reps use a scanner to scan and upload the student information directly into our database. An email is immediately sent to student thanking them for visiting with us at specific fair.

An email is sent to each student that applies online. The first email is an automated email that simply states their application has been received. Once the application has been processed, an acceptance letter is generated and mailed out.

Component 5: Intended Outcomes, Assessment Measures, Targeted Level of Achievement, and Prior Results

1. If data has previously been gathered, list the intended outcomes for the department for the past three years and cite the institutional Essential Skills and other Strategic Plan priorities that each outcome supports.

The data collected has been since 2014 to report enrollment from the service area graduates. SEE ATTACHED REPORT Service Area High School Graduates, Attachment 2.

2. Describe the data gathering process and give results.

A query report was designed to pull student names, and name of high school for any graduation period requested. Other high school enrollment and graduation numbers are pulled from the Kansas Education Data Reporting website.

The service area as defined by the Kansas Board of Regents (KBOR) expects colleges to respond to local needs of that approved area, to off-campus academic courses and programs that are offered for credit, but to also include workforce training, and noncredit courses and programs. Our service area consists of: Scott City, Wichita County, Greeley County, Deerfield, Lakin, Syracuse, Dighton, Healy, Holcomb, and Garden City High Schools.

Enrollment from the service area in 2014 was at 29.7%. Over the past 4 years the number of high school graduates has increased by 8.5%. The enrollment from the service area at GCCC has increased by 28.7%. For the fall 2017, GCCC has enrolled 38.24% of their service area high school graduates. See Attachment 2.

3. Analyze the data by comparing the actual results to the targeted levels of achievement and document what was learned.

A Student Satisfaction Inventory (SSI) institutional survey from Noel-Levitz was completed in May 2017 and 2016, providing us with results from comparable community colleges nationwide.

The 2017 report indicated that the level of importance with the Admissions and Financial Aid office is at 6.34. Their level of satisfaction is 5.65 with a performance gap of 0.69. Our performance is above the Midwestern National Community College level. The national performance gap is 0.71, which indicates that we are getting the information to students better than other community colleges in our region. See Attachment #3 page 1.

This report also measured how the admissions counselors accurately portray the campus in their recruiting practices. Our performance is above the other comparable community college in the Midwestern region. Their level of satisfaction had a performance gap of 0.39, compared to the national performance gap of 0.41, which indicates that we are portraying our college better than other community college's in our region. See Attachment #3 page 2.

The same report of 2016 also indicated that the level of importance with the Admissions and Financial Aid office is at 6.20. Their level of satisfaction is 5.73 with a performance gap of 0.47. Our performance is above the Midwestern National Community College level. The national performance gap was at 0.84, which indicates that we are getting the information to students better than other community colleges in our region.

The 2016 report also measured how the admissions counselors accurately portray the campus in their recruiting practices. Our performance is above the other comparable community college in the Midwestern region. Their level of satisfaction had a performance gap of 0.38, compared to the national performance gap of 0.42, which indicates that we are portraying our college better than other community colleges in our region.

4. The department will gather feedback regarding expectations and performance from stakeholders through interviews, surveys, focus groups or other appropriate measures. This feedback shall be considered when selecting performance measures and when continuous improvement plans are developed. Describe what changes have been made in response to these measures.

The admissions department surveyed students on each specific enrollment date in 2017. This evaluation was first implemented in 2017.

SEE ATTACHMENT #5

This survey will also be distributed at all future enrollment day events.

Attach copies of any stakeholder survey results for your department.

5. Use the results to develop a Continuous Improvement Plan for the department, improving efficiencies based on targeted outcomes. Include consideration for resources, processes, data collection, analysis and timelines for monitoring and assessing the results. List intended outcomes for the department that insure alignment with institutional Essential Skills and other strategic priorities.

For each outcome identify at least one method of measurement that will be used to assess progress toward the outcome. Assessment is strengthened when multiple measures are used. An assessment measure should provide meaningful, actionable data that the department can use to assess efficiency and improve processes. Describe the target level of achievement for each measure. Levels of achievement shall be:

- Specific and measurable.
- Stated in numerical terms.
- Stated in realistic terms.
- Directly related to the outcome.
- Inclusive of all aspects of the outcome.

- Manageable and practical.

To demonstrate efficiency, determine if external or internal benchmarks are available for comparison.

6. Participate in the design of all recruitment materials.
7. Encourage and assist in any radio/TV advertising.

4. Comment on the progress on previous Departmental Review Action Plans or Recommendations

Departments completing the review for the first time will not have these items and need not answer this question.

A recruitment plan is done within the department every year and is constantly reviewed throughout the year, but no formal documentation has been done. Documentation will take place on a yearly basis.

5. Describe the department strengths:

The admissions staff is always ready to assist students or visitors to the GCCC campus. They are responsive to campus, student and community needs. They're knowledgeable about all GCCC programs and able to speak about them in all types of settings and through any electronic means.

They provide support to the campus faculty and staff in their recruitment efforts. They facilitate positive experiences with all areas of campus to keep the lines of communication open.

They are able to provide computer support to faculty and staff in the use of Datatel admissions module which includes looking up demographic information as well as the use of admissions recruiting reports.

6. Describe what areas need improvement:

Strengthen and enhance the electronic mail trail and presence on social media.

7. State the recommendations for the department:

The department currently relies on the help from student workers to enter all application and prospective student information. The application is the first step in creating the transcript file for the prospective student. The student worker simply does not take the time to process the requirements of the application, therefore, duplicate entries are created and pertinent information is omitted.

I would recommend an additional full time professional staff assistant to manage the front desk and serve as the primary data entry clerk. This person would process all applications, assist with other data entry into system and help with planning, and scheduling of campus visitors.

I would then recommend altering the current position of the admissions representative/campus visit coordinator to be strictly dedicated to the technical programs. This person could serve as the recruiter, academic advisor and main contact for all of the technical programs.

Statement of Good Practices for Secondary Student Recruitment

Adopted by KCA and KACRAO

Professional Responsibilities

All school's counselors have the right to expect and demand professional behavior from any person coming into the school to interact with students. Therefore, athletic, ROTC, and other individual departmental recruiters, as well as proprietary schools and military agencies, shall adhere to the Statement of Good Practices adopted by the Kansas Counseling Association (KCA) and the Kansas Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers (KACRAO), stipulated for KACRAO members.

The official admissions representative shall be designated by and responsible to the director of admissions of said university or college. Individual departments should work with the corresponding departmental people within the secondary schools. Other individuals such as alumni shall schedule their activities after school hours unless requested by the high school.

High School Visits

The Admissions Office representative shall make student visitation requests to the secondary school counselor using professional courtesy and judgment. You, as Admissions Professionals, are to adhere and work around each high school's scheduled visitation times. The representative shall make requests for school visits with specific students only through the counselor and is encouraged to provide the counselor with a list of prospective students with whom he/she would like to meet.

The representative shall report directly to the counselor upon arrival at the high school and shall allow adequate time to give all students the opportunity to have interaction with the representative. Though the local high school determines the number of visits, it is recommended that there be no more than two per year by the individual institutions. The representative shall be allowed to visit during the school day if the visit does not interfere with academic exercises. KACRAO member institutions shall not use current college students for recruitment purposes during regular high school hours.

The high school counselor shall provide students with information about the proposed visit from the post-secondary school. They shall adequately provide students with knowledge of this upcoming visit. The high school counselor should provide adequate meeting space for this visit.

Campus Visits

The campus visit is an integral part of the student's selection process. Students shall actively be encouraged to visit one or more post-secondary institutions. Senior Days and other special campus events serve their purpose; however, students should be permitted to visit a campus during a school day so that daily campus operations may be observed.

The high school counselor or students may arrange with the admissions counselor a date well in advance to the proposed visit. The high school counselor should help provide insight to the prospective student(s) as to what should be accomplished during this visit. The students shall fulfill their part of the scheduled visit by reporting to the campus at the designated place and time. Students should notify institution of any change of plans. The admissions counselor shall provide students with a representative view of the institution including visits with departmental, special activity, financial aid, and housing representatives.

Home Visits

The admissions officer shall make visits to the student's home only with the prior approval of both the student and the student's parents and with consideration of the family's privacy and time.
